

Let's Talk:

Exclusion & Inclusion in 2017

Thursday, February 23 | 5 –7 p.m. | Havener Center—St Pat's Ballroom A

Heavy appetizers will be served

The Chancellor's Committee on Diversity and Inclusion in partnership with Human Resources, Equity, and Inclusion, Institutional Equity, Diversity and Inclusion, International and Cultural Affairs, Leadership and Cultural Programs, and Student Diversity, Outreach and Women's Programs presents a conversation about exclusion and inclusion in 2017.

Facilitator: Shenethia Manuel, J.D., Vice Chancellor, Human Resources, Equity, and Inclusion

Two campus experts will discuss the effects of exclusion in the context of American history and culture. Members of the Missouri S&T community are invited to discuss how we can move our community forward to achieve our aspiration of becoming an inclusive community.

Presenters are:

Dr. Larry Gragg

Curators' Distinguished Teaching Professor and former chair of history and political science. Dr. Gragg has written extensively on various cultural issues throughout history.

Dr. Jessica Cundiff

Assistant Professor of psychological science. Dr. Cundiff's expertise includes research on stereotyping, prejudice, discrimination, subtle forms of bias, and strategies for promoting diversity and inclusion.

We encourage you to pick up a copy of Dr. Petra Dewitt's paper titled, Constructed Identities and the 'Other' at this session for further discussion.
